

Living Series

A living series that (still) has no end. This is an experimental artistic marathon designed to maintain a creative headspace. In developing this series, I have discovered balance and growth through moments of passion, imagination, curiosity, fear, inspiration, excitement, and occasional anxiety.

Each piece is a digital drawing. One work is drawn each day and shared publicly via LinkedIn (Casey Snodgrass) and Instagram (@shotbysnod). They are named and numbered for the day in which they were created.
