

Anger

Anger burning deep inside,
Smouldering, not trying to hide.
Yearning to find a way,
To get outside and make your day.
I'm holding on so very tight,
Trying not to let it out of sight.
It ignites my very soul,
Illuminates my essence, whole.
It's seeping out, it feels you near,
You're going to get it, now you're here.
This is on you, there is no other,
They need a father not just a mother.
I'm going to let my anger loose on you,
Who knows what it will decide to do.
